

DELIVERY METHODS:

TINCTURES

+ ORAL SOLUTIONS

Your product will come with a pre-marked dropper. All solution bottles are child-resistant, so you will need to push down on the cap as you twist to open. There will be a dropper attached to the lid of your solution product. Using the dropper provided will allow you to draw up the appropriate dose accurately.

For a faster onset of effect, hold the solution under the tongue for 2–3 minutes before swallowing. For a delayed onset, swallow solution instead of holding under the tongue.

You may repeat doses as needed, and as you can tolerate. As with any medicinal cannabis product, the goal is to consume the least amount possible to achieve symptom relief. If you find yourself needing increasingly larger doses of products over time, please speak with a dispensary patient care specialist.

Individual results may vary.

TOPICALS

Topical products can include lotions, balms, creams and patches. These options can either provide for a localized effect (meant to stay in the area of application) or a systemic effect (whole-body). It's important to ask your patient care specialist for specifics on the product you're interested in!

Systemic THC products have the potential to produce some psychoactive effects.

Medical cannabis topicals will come in many different formulations and may have CBD, THC or may contain different ratios of both CBD and THC.
